Annual Stakeholders' Meet 2010 by Ali Murshed

AIESEC in IUB has recently witnessed the passing down of the local committee's leadership mantle from the hands of the executive body team of 2009-2010 to the newly elected team of 2010-2011. The official transition ceremony took place within the School of Business campus of IUB and was grand in its presentation. The executive body team of 2010-2011 personally took the responsibility of organizing the event by calling it "Annual Stakeholders' Meet 2010", through which they seized the opportunity to get the respected external stakeholders of AIESEC in IUB closer in touch with the organization to which they have shown so much support. Many of our respected supporters, enablers, exchange partners & sponsor partners were present at the auspicious event to show their support and provide their blessings to the new team for the upcoming year.

The departing president, Nazia Sultana, gave a very heart-warming and inspiring speech addressing the newly elected executive body members and on behalf of her entire team wished them a prosperous future. This was followed by the newly elected president, Kh. Mashfaque Abdullah, being given the podium for him to say a few words thanking the retiring team for their well-wishes and promising an even brighter future ahead for AIESEC in IUB, which was followed by an enlightening speech from the honorary Vice Chancellor, Prof. Bazlul Mobin Chowdhury. After the formal ceremony had taken place, the newly elected team surprised their predecessors with a more casual farewell party. The atmosphere became very sentimental as the departing executive body members shared some of their special experiences and memories gained so far which they will cherish for the rest of their lives. After a successful transition of not only authority but also wisdom and knowledge, the new executive body team are fully energized to take AIESEC in IUB to a whole new level of prosperity in the days to come.

AIESEC, the world's largest student run organization, is the international platform that enables young people to explore and develop their leadership potential. Present in over 107 countries, 1,700 universities with over 38,000 members, AIESEC offers unparalleled leadership development experiences to its members and creates a network of global change agents that have a positive impact on society. Its members are interested in world issues, leadership and management. AIESEC's innovative development process consists of unmatched leadership experiences, international opportunities and a global learning environment.

Internship Experience in India by Rashedul Hasan Majumder

I have recently completed my internship at Police DAV Public School, Jalandhar Cant, Punjab, India. I would like to show my gratitude to my parents for supporting me throughout the process and most importantly show my gratitude to AIESEC in IUB for providing me with such an important opportunity. Police DAV Public School is the largest and ranked number one school in the state of Punjab of India. As India is a fast escalating, multicultural country and people of Punjab are so gracious that I enjoyed every moments of my traineeship where at the same time I learned a lot from it. My job was to arrange sessions on diverse issues of global environment like Global Warming, Climate Change, Disaster Management, HIV AIDS, Health and Society, Millennium Development Goal etc. with both the students and the teachers. The aspect of these sessions was, to aware the wide-ranging people about the environment with an International Dimension. Finally once again I thank AIESEC in IUB for theopportunity and wish all the success to them for the future days to come.

Internship Experience in Bangladesh by Hiroaki Kuroda

I have come from Japan to Bangladesh in order to do an internship to complete my university graduation requirements. My life and work in Bangladesh so far has been amazing and I have gained a lot of knowledge about the cultures in this part of the world. People are very nice and hospitable here. I am working in an NGO called "1 Degree Initiative" which works to help poor and unprivileged children by giving education and training on various skills. I am here to provide external expertise and consultancy to the members of the organization and also take part in organizing workshops and educational seminars. I am extremely satisfied and glad to have the opportunity to work in such a culturally rich and diverse country. I would like to give my sincerest thanks to AIESEC in IUB for facilitating my internship here and helping me greatly all throughout. It is through them that I have managed to visit and experience other parts of Bangladesh and learned a lot about its history. I wish AIESEC in IUB all the best for the future and hope to come back again for another work opportunity here in Bangladesh.

Senior Manager Election 2010-11 by Ali Murshed

AIESEC in IUB has jump-started the year 2010-201 by making history right at the start by coordinating its first ever senior manager election to provide a new leadership opportunity to its existing member base. The newly elected executive body members have been proactive in their effort to ensure that there is a sound structural leadership base formed within the local committee in hopes of further improving overall organizational efficiency. An impressive number of seven members were motivated enough to run for their respective positions. The election process took place over the course of two days, where in the first day the candidates had to present their year plans in front of the whole local committee and in the second day they were individually put through rigorous interview sessions. The year plan presentations were detailed and provided the vice presidents under whom these individuals would function with important in-depth understanding of how effectively the candidates would perform for their departments. The year plan presentations also allowed everyone to see the extent to which the candidates were able to comprehend the organizational realities and their course of action to innovatively counteract upon those issues throughout the year. The interview sessions were deemed by the candidates as "nerve-wracking" and judged each individual based upon his or her confidence, attitude, problem-solving skills, and interaction skills. The executive body members who judged the event expressed their satisfaction at the quality of the candidates and are optimistic about the future of AIESEC in IUB being placed under the leadership of these selected few, "with a little bit more furnishing necessary over time" as mentioned by Mashfaque Abdullah (Local Committee President 10-11).

AIESEC in IUB Recruitment & Team's Day 2010
by Ali Murshed

This year's recruitment campaign has been the most remarkable one so far in the history of AIESEC in IUB. The response was overwhelming as approximately over a hundred application forms were given out, of which around ninety-five forms had been submitted. The candidates who had made it to the team's day brought along with them an ample supply of energy and enthusiasm, which added to the overall spectacle of the event. The chair for the event was one of the ex-Vice Presidents of AIESEC in IUB, Fahim Kabir. The day consisted of the candidates being taken through the various information & training sessions, which were part of the overall recruitment evaluation process.

Amongst the external guests who came to show their support were Arman Mahbub (Alumnus of AIESEC NSU), Nafees Rahman (Alumnus of AIESEC AIUB), Faisal Rahman (Alumnus of AIESEC IUB), Shaila Rahman Khan (Alumnus of AIESEC IUB), Fazle Sobhan Chowdhury (Alumnus of AIESEC IUB) and representatives from the other local committees. "The sessions were very enlightening and I think all of it provided us with an in-depth look into what AIESEC is all about", commented of the candidates at the end of the day. Regardless of the exhaustingly long day, the candidates displayed an appreciative attitude all throughout. The overwhelming success of this year's Team's Day has made the members, both current and previous, of AIESEC in IUB very proud and optimistic about the future of the organization.

Iftar was also organized for orphans at the Team's Day 2010.

AIESEC in IUB Local Induction Conference 2010
by Nazia Nazmul

Finally after the rigorous recruitment campaign this year, a total of thirty two candidates were officially given the opportunity to develop their leadership potential as the new members of AIESEC in IUB. The Local Induction Conference 2010 was the event through which the new batch of future leaders were formally welcomed into AIESEC community. The conference was divided into two phases; the first phase focusing on traininig the rookies about the two exchange departments while the second phase taught them about the remaining three departments (Finance & Administration, Communications, and Talent Management). The new recruits were very enthusiastic about learning and immersed themselves deeply into learning about the core functionalities of AIESEC. The level of dedication displayed by these fresh young talents is strongly commendable and only goes to show that the future of AIESEC in IUB will be carried forward well in their capable hands.
